tions—Freight Crew Had Orders to Meet the Second and Forgot the First.

Kansas City, July 11.—Sixteen persons are dead, two probably fatally injured, and a large number of others seriously hurt as a result of a head-on collision between passenger and freight trains on the Chicago and Alton railroad near Norton, Mo. Six were killed outright, four died on a train conveying them to Kansas City, and others died at hospitals in this city.

The dead: Daniel M. Anson, Slater, Mo., conductor of freight train; P. J. Anderson, Slater, Mo., engineer of freight train; Frank Briggs, engineer of passenger train; L. S. Roberts, Chicago United States Express company messenger; Mrs. Gilland and daughter of Goodland, Ind.; D. W. Hooker of Syracuse, N. Y., died on train; Mrs. H. W. Sander, Jasper, N. Y., died on train; G. L. Roy, cashier of Winona, Minn., died on train; Sydney Jones, Kansas City, died in hospital; Daniel Donnelly, Mexico, Mo., died on freight train; Roy R. J. Curtis, Geneseo, N. Y., died at University hospital; Mrs. Dickson, of Wilmington, Ill., died at University hospital; Miss John Kober, 25, of Kintland, Ind., died at University hospital.

Among the many injured are Eli Walker, Mrs. Katherine Walker and Mrs. Mary Mayer of Louisville, O.

The passenger train was traveling in three sections on account of the heavy Epworth league baggage in the first section. The wrecked train was the first section and contained no baggage. Conductor McAnna of the freight train, who had been ordered to meet the second section of the passenger at Slater, the next station east of Norton, but apparently overlooked the fact that the first section, which was 55 minutes late, had not passed. The front brakeman on the freight, who was about four cars from the engine, says Conductor McAnna took the throttle himself on passing Marshall, and was running the engine when the collision occurred. The trains met two miles west of Norton on a curve surrounding a high embankment.

The trains collided while going at a great rate of speed. The engines were practically demolished and the forward cars of the passenger train were telescoped.

The forward Pullman and the four-lug sleeper in front were burned. The baggage car was wrecked and freights were piled up on both engines and burned. The wrecked train was one of the fastest passenger trains in the United States. The equipment was new.

On the arrival at Kansas City of the train bearing the wounded the sufferers were taken to St. Joseph's and University hospitals. On the journey from Slater four of the injured died and their bodies were taken to an undertaking establishment here. The train also brought the bodies of Mrs. Gilland and daughter of Goodland, Ind. The injured suffered mostly from scalds due to escaping steam from the wrecked locomotives, there being no broken limbs. Some of the victims had inhaled steam and were in worse condition than a first examination indicated.

Soon after the arrival here three of the injured died at University hospital and one at St. Joseph's hospital. Identification of the dead was difficult because the clothing had been removed to apply relief to the scalded surfaces. One of the deaths at University hospital was that of Mrs. Dickson, of Wilmington, Ill. Her daughter is in the hospital not seriously injured. Miss Lulu Rider, of Kentland, Ind., was terribly mutilated, her face being crushed and her body scalded. Hilda Haslip of Chenoa, Ill., scalded and burned on back, shoulders, head and face, is the most seriously injured of the patients at University hospital. T. C. Bray of Chicago, a shoe dealer, is at University hospital with neck sprained, head cut and internal injuries, but with a slim chance of recovery. At St. Joseph's hospital, Mrs. Frances Walker of Brooklyn, N. Y., and an elderly woman, unidentified died during the night.

The Judge Intends the Public to See.Ellis Glenn Must Sit in the Court Room Without
Hat and Veil.Every Legal Point is Being Bitterly Contested and It May Require Weeks to Finish the Trial.Parkersburg, W. Va., July 11.—The third day of the trial of Ellis Glenn charged with forgery only two witnesses were examined. Every legal point is being bitterly fought and it may take weeks to try the case as there are over 100 witnesses to examine. Judge Stapleton made a ruling that Ellis will have to sit during the remainder of the trial with her hat and veil removed from her head and face. This pleased the people in the crowded court room, as they have been desirous of seeing her.
C. M. Mayhew of Parkersburg testified that Albert Glenn worked for him
a year in a meat shop in Williamstown, the scene of the alleged forgery.
He testified that he believed he was positive Ellis and Bert Glenn were one and the same person. He said he had known her many years, when she appeared as a man, and now that she was dressed as a woman he still was positive Ellis was Bert. The defense asked him to swear to it, but he refused. George A. Hoover of Williamstown gave practically the same testimony. Although Glenn did not work for him he had had dealings with Bert many times, and said he believed the prisoner was the same person, but would not swear to it.TRAGEDYWhich Resulted in the

Hundred and Two in the Shade Yesterday.People Closed Windows and Doors
to Shut Out a Blistering Wind That Swept Up from the Southwest.Chicago, July 11.—Not since the establishment of the weather bureau has this city experienced such terrific heat as affected it Wednesday. The temperature was 102 in the shade in the office of the weather bureau, which was the high record, the highest previous mark being July 6, 1881, when 99.8 was reached.The wind blew with force from the west and southwest and a hotter, more stifling air was never felt in this city. It seemed to add 20 degrees to the heat. So hot did it become during the afternoon as the wind drove the hot air into windows and doorways, that all through the business section of the city tenants of offices slammed their windows down to keep out the air. At the theaters where matinees were in progress men were stationed at the front doors to keep them closed as much as possible. If any comfort was to be found it was by shutting out the breeze.Down on the street level, in the shade, the mercury was but little above that in the auditorium tower,
but in the sun and on the street crossings it was anywhere from 103 to 110.
The air was so dry, however, that its effects were not as disastrous as would have been the case had greater humidity prevailed. There were no deaths, but eight prostrations were reported.At night the wind changed to the northwest, blowing off Lake Michigan, with the result that the mercury went down 20 degrees within an hour.In Kansas.

Threatened.El Reno, O. T., July 11.—Following the proclamation of President McKinley opening to settlement by whites
the 13,000 farms in the Kiowa Comanche country, the first registration of homesteaders, was made here and at Lawton, hundreds were lined before the various registration booths, when darkness came Wednesday night, and the registrations will continue until all who come have been given an opportunity to file their names. The drawing by lot will begin July 29, and until then none of the 50,000 applicants will know whether or not he has been lucky enough to receive a homestead.The lottery scheme robbed the "opening" of the picturesque fun and the exciting times incident to the great opening of the Cherokee strip ten years ago. Compared with that event, this affair was tame. Considering that there are perhaps 20,000 people in town, comparatively little disorder prevailed.Hundreds of people sleep in the streets to maintain their places in lines forming at the six registration booths in El Reno. The crowd before each booth elected a captain and each man and woman in line was given a number which was pinned on the clothing.Interlopers tried to push in and break the numerical order of the line organization. This instantly raised bad blood and when word was passed down the line a little later that the booth officials would not recognize the line organization, but would register
the first persons to present themselves, there were threats of violence and rioting seemed likely. Trouble was prevented by the early announcement that the line organization would be respected by the government officials, cheers and waving of hats greeted this word and from this time forth no sign of trouble was apparent. Applicants were admitted to the booths four at a time, and the filing proceeded rapidly all day.During the day the heat became intense but no serious suffering was reported. The numerous women in line were treated gallantly by the men, who shaded them from the sun with umbrellas and furnished drinks from the lemonade vendors.Similar scenes witnessed at Lawton.
The total registration of homesteaders at El Reno was 4,018, of whom 193
were women. Assistant Commissioner Richards established a separate registration booth for women. Mr. Richards says he can register 8,000 daily from now on, or as soon as organization of his force is perfected.BOILERAnd Firebox Invented by C.

GREAT APPLE CROP

Its Value in the Country Far Exceeds That of Wheat.

Recent statistics have brought to light a fact concerning the apple crop which, as compared with our wheat crop, is generally not known, that in dollars and cents the apple crop is much the larger, says a Carbondale (Ill.) dispatch to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. In 1900 the apple crop was 215,000,000 barrels, or 538,000,000 bushels. At the base of $2 per barrel, which is considered a conservative estimate, the crop netted $430,000,000, or nearly $125,000,000 more than the value of the wheat. On a percentage basis the apple crop reaches nearly 50 per cent more than the wheat. Our export of apples in the barrel exceeds 4,000,000 barrels a year and is increasing enormously. Our apples have a fixed value from Liverpool to St. Petersburg, and last year our shippers to foreign ports experienced considerable difficulty in supplying the demands for our apples. This trade has grown for several years, but took an enormous bound after the Paris exposition owing to the fine American display and the manner and energy in which American fruit growers presented the merits of the American apple.

Reports covering most of the state show that the cankerworm has made its appearance in large numbers, especially in Jefferson and Wayne counties. Unsprayed orchards present the appearance of having been swept by fire. In Missouri the crop is reported in good condition except in isolated sections.

New Rival to Niagara.

Niagara falls have a dangerous rival in the field of electrical power development, a rival so strong, indeed, that even in its youth it can lay claim to a larger volume of water and can promise to transmit more electrical power than even its mammoth antagonist at present supplies, says the Brooklyn Eagle. This rival consists of the largest power canal in the world transmitting the force of the waters of the great St. Lawrence river to a power house said to be the most perfect ever planned. It will begin business very shortly with an output for sale of 75,000 horsepower. Lowell, Mass., was built on 12,000 horsepower, Minneapolis on 25,000. This new Niagara is to be found at Messena, in St. Lawrence county, N. Y., almost on the Canadian border.

The Reservoir Drill.

In the recent trip south, Mr. A. E. Gay, of the Findlay Sucker Rod company, stopped off at the Colma reservoir where he saw the scow being used in drilling by W. W. Curtin, of Lima and Toledo parties. They have built a boat about 60x30 feet in dimensions and have a silt cut through the bottom several yards into the scow. On the end of the boat is built the derrick and the boiler and engine go on the other end. Drilling is performed much as on land, the sand being reached at a depth of 1150 feet. When the well is completed the scow is moved away, the silt in the bottom permitting the passage of the pipe and it straightway goes to drilling on an other well. The boat is anchored by means of four stakes driven solidly into the bottom of the reservoir, which is nowhere very deep. A new plan is being adopted around Colma, that of pumping oil with compressed air. The greatest objection to be found with this plan is that it would take a pipe of extraordinary strength to withstand the enormous pressure exerted by the air to make it go down that great distance and force the oil up. Quite possibly some such plan as this may be used in the proposed drilling of the string of wells across Lake Erie—Findlay Corner.

Song of the Drill.

New York is slowly progressing over the abandoned region to the northwest from Portage. The results on the Lehigh river have had a tendency to furnish fresh inspiration to the trade, and any old farm lying in the path is now considered worthy of special attention.

The Ohio Oil company has recently obtained three dusters in the region south of Bluffton, Ohio. It seems to be a difficult matter to connect the Bluffton and Beaverdam pools.

The attention of some Bowling Green operators is directed toward Putnam county just now. Putnam is situated in a fair range in the direction of Indiana and ought to produce some oil.

Roth & Argue have a new well on the McCrory farm, at Mungen, that is said to be a good producer in the natural state. No oil was found in the well until a depth of 200 feet in the Trenton was reached.

gas line of that city, owned by Miss Stone and now totally unproductive. The well looks like a failure for oil, although there is no danger of any lack of salt water.

The American Oil company will have its No. 7 in the sand on the Howard lease in Perry township tomorrow. It is drilled one location south of No. 6, which came in recently at 300 barrels.

The same company will drill No. 8 on the same lease next week, placing it one location north of No. 6. This will bring the big well just between the two new ventures and the American Oil company expect to get good results from both. Their No. 6 is making 120 barrels a day, the pump being started three days ago when the well ceased flowing. There have been no signs of a break.

Wells have sprung up like mushrooms since the big well was tapped by the American company in Perry township. Before that time there was scarcely any operations going in in that section of the county but now there are perhaps thirty derricks in place.

The Best Liniment for Strains.

Mr. F. H. Wells, the merchant at Deer Park, Long Island, N. Y., says: "I always recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm as the best liniment for strains. GERMANY'S EX-CHANCELLOR

Career of Prince Hohenlohe, Friend of America in Trying Times.

The late Prince von Hohenlohe was chancellor of the German empire for six years—from October, 1894, to October, 1900—says the New York World. He was also president of the Prussian cabinet, making him premier, minister of foreign affairs of the empire, president of the Prussian council of state, grand chamberlain of the crown of Bavaria and held many other subsidiary titles. He succeeded Caprivi as chancellor and was in turn succeeded by Von Inow.

He grew so old in office that he was unable to bear with the eccentricities of his sovereigns, and after many warm conflicts on matters of state with the kaiser he resigned, saying that he was being ignored. The kaiser, who always called him Uncle Clodwig, kissed him when they parted, and they had always since been on the most friendly terms.

Prince Clodwig was born in Rothenburg, Bavaria, March 23, 1819, and was educated at the best of the German universities. Through the relinquishing of the rights of inheritance by his elder brother he became the head of the Hohenlohe-Waldenburg-Schillingsfirst line of the once sovereign house of Hohenlohe, one of the oldest in Germany. The family is enormously rich.

The prince was first in the German civil service and then returned to Bavaria to become minister of foreign affairs. At first he posed as a Bavarian patriot and undertook, with others, to stem the rising tide of Prussia's power and to preserve the autonomy of the smaller states. He was the foremost figure in the fight against an empire and courageously opposed Bismarck to his face. But at the end of the Franco-Prussian war he surrendered and worked and voted for the incorporation of Bavaria into the German empire.

He was vice president of the first imperial reichstag and in 1871 was sent as ambassador to France. There he ransacked the embassy archives, finding and forwarding to Berlin the evidence upon which his predecessor, Count von Arnim, was tried.

After holding several other positions of trust the prince was made governor of the newly acquired province of Alsace-Lorraine. He had been immensely popular with the French while on his Paris mission, but in Alsace-Lorraine he made himself cordially detested by his radical measures to Germanize a people whose hearts were still French. This brought down so much criticism upon his country that the kaiser was compelled to interfere on more than one occasion and nullified laws he had caused to be promulgated. Eventually the prince adopted a policy of suavity and great consideration and completely won the hearts of the impressionable French that Germany had taken away from their fatherland.

At the American embassy it was said that the prince's death was much regretted; that he was ever friendly to Americans and their interests. Although an extensive estate owner, he did not share the agrarian hostility to the United States and was always fair and conciliatory in regard to German-American relations. It is declared that it is largely owing to Prince von Hohenlohe's friendly spirit during several trying years that Germany's relations with the United States never departed from cordiality.

As a Food For the Skin.

To Make it Smooth, Healthy and Beautiful, Dr. Chase's Ointment is Hailed by Thousands of Fair Women.

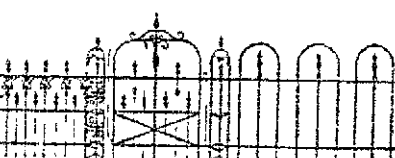

Every woman, no matter how beautiful her skin, finds need at times of some preparation to overcome the redness and roughness, and to cure the pimples, blackheads and skin irritations.

Powders may cover up the disfiguring eruptions, but can never cure them, and are positively injurious because they clog up the pores of the skin. Dr. Chase's Ointment is a food for the skin. It is readily absorbed, and thoroughly cures each and every skin disease, making the skin smooth, soft and clear.

No woman's toilet is complete without Dr. Chase's Ointment, for besides being the most perfect skin beautifier obtainable it can be used in a score of different ways. It absolutely cures eczema, salt rheum and the itching to which women are especially subject. The ointment does not cause pain when applied, but soothes the sore or inflamed surface. It immediately stops itching of the skin when applied.

When the feet are sore and chafed with walking an application of Dr. Chase's Ointment takes out the smarting and allays the inflammation in a surprisingly short time. Then for burns, scalds and every sort of chafing, irritation or eruption of the skin Dr. Chase's Ointment affords a safe and certain cure. It has come to be indispensable in scores of thousands of homes in the United States. It does not cause pain when applied; so coats a box, at all dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. A FAMOUS SCIENTIST.

Career of Professor Le Conte, an Authority on Geology.

The late Joseph Le Conte, professor of geology and natural history at the University of California, was a source of pride to his countrymen by birth and a lumina by death. He was the author of many books, among them the leading geological textbook used in colleges of this country, and of numerous articles on scientific subjects, says the New York Times. Once he was president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. In the civil war he served the Confederates as an expert chemist and also as a member of the mining bureau.

Born in Liberty county, Ga., on Feb. 23, 1822, young Le Conte had the best educational advantages the country could afford from his early youth until he was graduated from the Lawrence scientific school at Harvard university in 1852. After his preparatory training he went to the University of Georgia, being graduated from there in 1851. Then he went to San Francisco to the College of Physicians and Surgeons and took its degree in 1855, obtaining his degree of master of arts from the University of Georgia in the same year. From San Francisco he went to Harvard. In 1859 the honorary degree of doctor of laws was conferred upon him by his southern alma mater, and Princeton university awarded him the same honor five years ago. He was married in January, 1847, to Miss Caroline Elizabeth Nisbet of Georgia.

With Louis Agassiz, under whom he had studied at Harvard, Professor Le Conte went to Florida on an exploring expedition in 1851. The next year he became a professor in Oglethorpe college, after which he occupied the chair of geology and natural history in Franklin college for a year. In 1857 he began to teach chemistry and geology in South Carolina college, where he remained for 12 years, leaving there to take the position at the University of California, which he retained till his death. He was not only an authority on geology, but also on optics, aerostatics and physiology. The more important books he wrote were as follows: "Religion and Science," a collection of Sunday lectures; "Elements of Geology," a textbook for colleges and universities; "Sight, or the Principles of Molecular and Binocular Vision," a class book for high schools, and "Evolution and Its Relation to Religious Thought."

In 1895 Professor Joseph Le Conte, in commenting on an address before the Philosophical Union of the University of California by Professor Josiah Royce of Harvard, used the following words in defining the distinction between the physical and the mental: "It is said to be the best illustration of the kind ever given: 'Suppose I could remove the brain cap of one of you and expose the brain in active work, as it doubtless is at this moment. Suppose, further, that my senses were absolutely perfect, so that I could see everything that was going on there. What would I see? Only decompositions and recompositions—molecular agitations and vibrations—in a word, physical phenomena, and nothing else. There is absolutely nothing else there to see. But you, the subject of this experiment, what do you perceive? You see nothing of all this. You perceive an entirely different set of phenomena—viz., consciousness, thought, emotion, will—psychical phenomena; in a word, a person. From the outside we see only physical, from the inside only psychical, phenomena.'"

FAD TO HOLD UP TROUSERS.

Chappies Seek to Acquire Graces Equal to That of Women.

The shirt waist man no longer rolls up his trousers. He raises one leg with his left hand, much after the manner of woman, only he needs considerable practice to do it as artistically.

The latest fad, like its predecessor, came from foggy London, where muddy pavements forced a fashion on society, says the New York World. The present style of peg top trousers is largely responsible for the innovation, for in order to walk with freedom it is absolutely necessary to turn them up or hold them with the hand.

This also gives an opportunity to display variegated hosiery, and never before has such an assortment been placed on the New York market. Men's socks this season retail at from 50 cents to $1.00 a pair and may be had in stripes, checks of all combination and blended hues.

The originator of the new fad in New York walked out of the Waldorf-Astoria one day recently, and went up Fifth avenue. His appearance caused considerable comment, which was not all of a favorable character. Now one occasionally sees an exemplification of the London idea in Central park, on the avenue or along Broadway.

A Traveling Prison.

A new invention is a prison on wheels. It is the sort of jail used in North Carolina for confining the convicts who are employed doing work throughout the state, roadmaking, etc. In this way, says the New York Herald, they can be conveyed anywhere safely and may stay in a spot far from civilization as long as may be required without danger of their escaping. The prison is two stories high. It is divided into a number of cells, the floor of each being a bed and accommodating two of the prisoners. Into this cage they all go at night, and it is securely locked up, thus rendering it impossible that any one of them should get away. When work is to be done, they are let out of course, but when traveling are safely shut in.

AL JOHNSON'S DEATH.

Cause of It Attributed to a Driving Pent in London.

When the late Albert L. Johnson drove a team of six horses last summer through the most crowded thoroughfare of London, he startled English horsemen. Clever as they considered themselves with the reins, the feat of driving a six-in-hand from Piccadilly through the confusing vehicular streams of Trafalgar square, down the narrow Strand and Fleet street and through the even narrower and far more congested Chancery to the Bank, where the street traffic is greater than any other street in the world, was something English drivers thought impossible safely to accomplish. But Al Johnson did it.

But to that unique performance in horsemanship, which was commented upon from one end of Great Britain to the other, his family ascribe the beginning of the illness which ended in his death, says the New York Sun. A relative of Mr. Johnson said recently that shortly after he had demonstrated his ability to pilot six horses through the center of London he began to have trouble with his heart. Physicians said he had strained some of the muscles of his heart. He was told that while no serious consequences might ensue it was absolutely necessary that he should give up driving. Mr. Johnson obeyed the orders of the doctors and did not touch a rein again until last spring. A few months ago, thinking that he had completely recovered from the injury to his heart, he began to drive again.

Just about this time he had an attack of bronchitis, and the constant coughing which this induced brought about a return of the heart weakness. He was again told to take a long rest. Nothing immediately serious, however, was apprehended, even so recently as the other day, when Mr. Johnson traveled from his home at Fort Hamilton to consult Dr. Janeway. For a few weeks past Mr. Johnson had not been feeling well, but he was informed by Dr. Janeway that with thorough rest he would probably soon be better. Tom L. Johnson came on from Cleveland recently to visit his brother. He was not, as was first supposed, summoned to Fort Hamilton because of the fear that his brother's death was near. Mr. Johnson's death, in fact, was somewhat sudden and unexpected.

WORLD'S LARGEST GUN.

Government Will Have It Ready For Exhibition in 1902.

The management of the Pan-American exposition will be disappointed in its hope of securing the great 16 inch rifle which is being manufactured for the government and which is intended to become a part of the coast defense armament, says a special dispatch from Washington to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. This big gun has cost the United States about $500,000 thus far, and it is so far from completion that it is not expected that it can be exhibited before another year has passed. It has been suggested in consequence that it would form a most interesting exhibit for the St. Louis exposition in 1904, as it will probably be mounted by that time and ready for transportation.

The castings for the gun are complete, but its breech mechanism has not been finished, nor has the immediate gun carriage on which it is to be mounted. In 1903 the gun will be fully completed, and it is expected then, as now, it will be the largest gun in the world. It will have a range of more than 25 miles, and its destructive ability can hardly be estimated. It is indicated, however, by the fact that the skilled gunners of the United States artillery believe any well directed shot from the great gun would entirely demolish the largest fighting ship of a hostile navy which might attempt to enter a port which it defends.

"PAY YOUR OWN CAR FARE."

Motto of New Order Launched in Kansas.

A new order has been started in Topeka which, its promoters expect, will rival the Buffaloes, says the Kansas City Times. It is called the Independent Order of Men Who Refuse to Pay the Other Fellow's Street Car Fare. F. L. Vandegrift and W. Y. Morgan are responsible for it. Nearly everybody approached on the subject has joined the order. Only the politicians decline. The scheme of the order is to poke fun at the fad of paying the street car fare of everybody in sight until it becomes unpopular.

The order has no officers, no dues, no goat riding, no grips, no passwords. The only rule of the order is to pay your own car fare and require the other fellow to dig up for himself. A member may loan a fellow passenger the price if requested to do so, with the understanding that it be paid back. Vandegrift and Morgan propose to establish the order in every city in the United States by means of an endless chain of letters. Women are joining the order at Topeka.

Newest Feline Millinery.

Since millinery for horses has become established as a summer feature, it might naturally have been expected that it would soon become subject to the caprices of fashion. Several horses were recently seen in "chic creations" of striking character, says the New York Tribune. One wore a jaunty dished shade hat adorned with a band of red ribbon, with a large cluster of forget-me-nots over the left ear. Another rejoiced in a wide brimmed hat encircled by a wreath of white blossoms, and a third had a huge pompon of blue gauze directly in front. "Simple, but stylish," was the white duck shade, much like a baby's, that protected still another from the beating sun.

AMERICA TO LEAD ALL.

Minister Wu Says the Republic Will Become Greatest Power on Earth.

Several thousand persons gathered in Independence square at Philadelphia on the fourth of July to see and hear Wu Ting-fang, the Chinese minister. Minister Wu was the orator of the day at the municipal celebration of Independence day, and the friendly reception given the distinguished guest must have allayed all fears for his safety despite the fact that he had received an anonymous letter threatening him with bodily harm.

When Minister Wu appeared on the speaker's stand, he was accompanied by two detectives, who had been assigned as a special bodyguard, says the New York Journal. When the Chinese diplomat stepped to the front of the platform, he was given a rousing reception.

Minister Wu began by referring to the day and sketching the many important events which had occurred upon its anniversary. He made humorous reference to the fact that China furnished America with freetraders and then in a serious vein traced a similarity in the educational system of China, which gave the humblest citizen an opportunity to become part of the government, and the electoral system of the United States. His closing tribute to the United States was as follows:

"This nation, it seems to me, has not sprung into existence without a manifest destiny. There must be some noble ends for which the independence of the United States was established. "It was to demonstrate to the world what great good to mankind a free and independent people can do; to establish a government of the people, by the people and for the people; to preserve law and order; to treat all people alike, with fairness and justice; to do away with selfish and chauvinist feeling; to make American patriotism synonymous with fair play, with the love of mankind, with freedom and liberty in accordance with law and justice.

"By pursuing these ends this republic will become the greatest power upon earth, and you citizens of this great country will be more than ever respected and loved by all."

HOW TAFT LICKED AN EDITOR.

Story About the First Civil Governor of the Philippines.

Judge William H. Taft, just inaugurated first civil governor of the Philippines, is a tall, broad shouldered man of great dignity. Personally Governor Taft is one of the most gracious and kind hearted of men, but several times during his career he has shown that he has fighting blood in his veins, says a correspondent of the Chicago Tribune. At Yale he was the most popular man in his class and was noted for his skill as a boxer and in other similar forms of athletics. This skill he once put to good use after he graduated and came back to his home in Cincinnati.

At the time there was published in Cincinnati a scurrilous Sunday paper, made up chiefly of scandalous attacks on prominent people. One Sunday morning the paper contained what purported to be a letter from Washington written by a society woman of Cincinnati who was visiting in the national capital. The letter was such as no woman of discretion and modesty would have written, and though the name of its alleged author was not given, the editor in another article succeeded in conveying the impression that Mrs. Taft, mother of the present governor, who happened at the time to be in Washington, was responsible for it.

The day the article appeared William H. Taft, accompanied by a male relative, called at the office of the paper in question and succeeded in identifying the editor who had written the article which had offended his family. He then proceeded to take off his coat and otherwise clear the decks for action. The editor called for help, but the elder Taft held those who came to his assistance at bay, while young William attended to the case of the chief offender. When he had finished, there was just about enough left of the blackmailing editor to be decently taken to the hospital. Doctors worked over the fragments for two weeks, at the end of which time the victim of Taft's strong right arm was just able to limp out to his office. He never took any action against the future jurist, whose action was highly commended by the entire community.

INDIANS GOING TO MEXICO.

Dissatisfied Cherokees Will Form a Colony to Their Liking.

Hundreds of full blood Cherokees, under the leadership of Muskrat, are organizing to emigrate to Mexico, says a Vinita (I. T.) dispatch to the St. Louis Republic. An agent of a land syndicate, named Lyons, has offered them free lands and an opportunity to perpetuate their tribal organization in that country, and all the followers of the irreconcilable chief are enrolling to go.

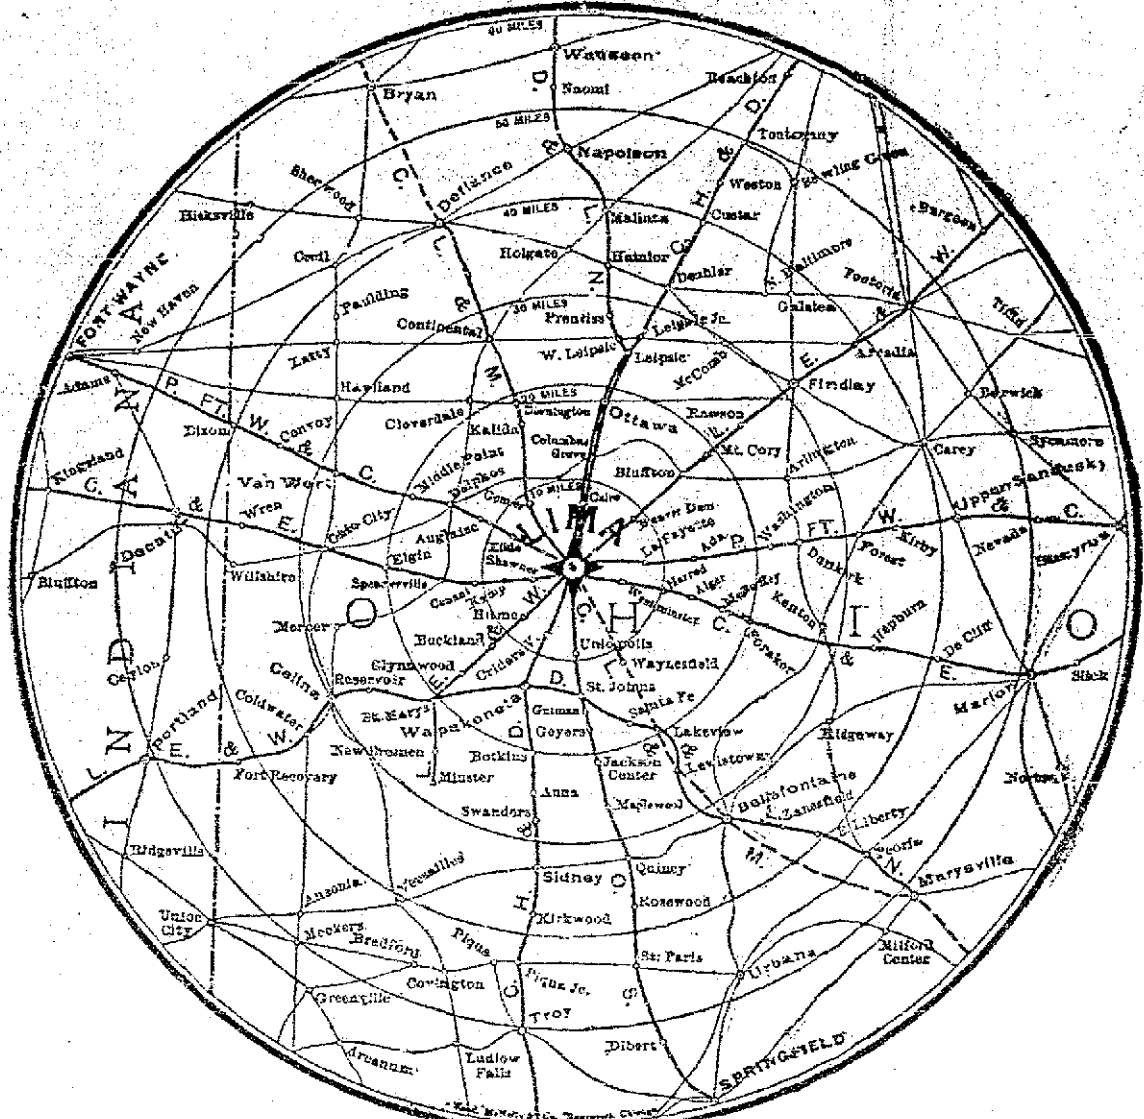

This element in the Cherokee Nation has always bitterly opposed the allotment of lands, and all of those who are in favor of a speedy settlement of the nation's affairs with the government are promoting the movement by an offer to purchase their rights.

New Tune For "America."

At the annual meeting of the Rhode Island Society of the Order of Cincinnati held at the stoneware in Newport the other day it was voted, says the New York World, that the song "America" be revised and that the same words be put to new music and sung at all future meetings of the society.

Land cultivated by irrigation is more productive than land where the rainfall moisture alone is sufficient to mature the crops.

SPILL

On the Race Track at Akron

Mixed Affairs

And Two Races Were Marred Yesterday.

Ima Dawson's Sulky was Smashed But No Injury Resulted.

Gem S was Backed to Win the 2:23 Pace, But Only Got the First Heat and Then Finished Behind the Money.

Bad spills in the 2:23 and 2:17 pace marred the second day's racing of the summer meeting of the Akron Trotting Association yesterday. The first one in the 2:23 pace was unavoidable, being caused by a bad break of Belle Dillard. Eph Cinders, who was at her side, couldn't pull out soon enough, and she went into his bike, smashing a wheel. Tony B. stopped almost instantly and his driver, W. C. Baum, was thrown out, but uninjured. In the fast pace Ima Dawson's bike was put out of commission in the third heat, and Mr. Galvin, who drove George Burton, was the cause. As a result, George Burton was distanced by the judges. Coming into the stretch in this heat Galvin crowded Ima Dawson into the fence, causing her to break badly. Before she could recover, Speckles, who was coming up on the inside very fast, went into her sulky, smashing a wheel. Mr. Lerch, Ima Dawson's driver, managed to get off the sulky and out of the way of the other horses without injury. The horse recovered and paced down the stretch.

In the 2:23 pace a horse in the quarter stretch came near causing a bad spill. It became scared in the third heat and jumped the fence into the home stretch just as the horses were coming down the stretch in a bunch. A swipe caught the animal. It required several heats to settle the 2:23 pace. Gem S. was a hot favorite in the betting, selling at 10 to 6. She took the first heat rather easily. The judges thought that Ethel Eakin was not being driven to win, and they called her driver to the stand and ordered him to drive for the heat. The little mare took the next heat, but she was all in after that and did not figure in the other heats, although she sold a hot favorite in the pools after that. Eph Cinders had the speed of the crowd, and took the next three heats without ever being headed. Following is the summary:

The 2:17 pace was not finished, owing to the lateness of the hour, Milo S., Ima Dawson, and Speckles each having a heat to their credit. It will be finished this afternoon. The summary:

DAMAGE

Suit of Dr. Mauk Comes Up Again,

This Time for an Airing in the Supreme Court.

The Trouble Over the Resolution That was Adopted by Board the Health of Delphos Not Yet Over.

A damage case came up to the Supreme Court from the city of Delphos yesterday, says a dispatch from Columbus, in which an extremely sensitive physician figures as the plaintiff in error. It is styled E. E. Mauk vs. N. E. Brundage et al.—"Brundage et al." being the member of the Delphos board of health. The plaintiff's petition shows that some time ago the board of health adopted a resolution declaring that it was the opinion of the board that a number of deaths had been recently caused in the village by the carelessness of physicians who were treating infectious diseases at the same time they were practicing obstetrics. With this as a whereas, the board adopted a rule forbidding physicians who had infectious diseases under treatment, from accepting obstetrical cases. Though no names were used in the resolution and order, Dr. Mauk brought suit for $10,000 professional damages, claiming that the board referred to him in the resolution. Of course he has lost the case as it stands.

STARTLING

Figures Furnished by the Board of Health.

Smallpox was Epidemic in the State But Only a Few Deaths are Recorded.

Statistics received from the state board of health for the six months of the year just closed, show that smallpox was almost an epidemic in the state. From the report the following figures are taken:

In the state of Ohio, from January 1 to June 1, 1901, there were 2,907 cases of smallpox and 32 deaths. The greatest number of cases was in Cuyahoga county, 1,227, with 12 deaths; Cleveland having 1,073 of the cases. There were 6 cases in Hancock county, 3 in Findlay and 3 in Washington township. Hardin county had 106 and Wood 115. The grand total in the United States for the same period was 39,710 cases and 552 deaths, against 12,566 cases and 682 deaths in same time in 1899. The vast increase in the number of cases is attributed to wrong diagnoses by the family physicians, who are largely blamed for the spread of the epidemic.

CHAT

Concerning the Building of Electric Roads.

Work Will Begin at Van Wert Within a Week

But the Lima Promoters are Asked to Change the Route so as to Pass Over Woodlawn Avenue—Other Notes.

An effort is being made to induce the promoters of the Lima, Delphos, Van Wert & Ft. Wayne Electric Railroad to change the route in this town so as to pass over Woodlawn avenue, says the Van Wert Bulletin. The change would not effect the route as now laid out east of Lynn street. The company looks with favor upon the suggestion and will consider it provided the right-of-way is secured without expense to them. If the route is established independent cars would be run from the center of town to the Woodlawn cemetery on all special occasions.

The north and south line, according to reports, is to be hurried to early completion. The date for the commencement of track work is to be decided within a week.

D. M. Fisher, of Lima, is looking up the prospects of getting right-of-way on Second street for the east and west electric line. It is expected that the line will come to the corporation north of the Penna. tracks and then north through the lane that leads to the residence of John Summers, to Second street.—Delphos Herald.

The Piqua Call of yesterday says: "For the past week the corps of surveyors, headed by W. S. Sherman, of Toledo, have been at work surveying the route of the electric line, which the Miami Valley Railway Company proposes to construct from this city to Minster. Today the party of which County Surveyor Delver is a member, had reached Swift Run, and are at work making the survey of the hill. On account of the grade at this point, the work is progressing slower than it has at other points along the line from this city. Yesterday it was found that the Western Ohio men were encroaching on the pike, on which they have no franchise, this being held by the Miami Valley, and it became necessary for Mr. Delver to inform them of this fact, which occurred as the result of a misunderstanding as to the width of the road. As soon as the surveyors get on the top of the hill, the work will go forward more rapidly."

Seventy Men For a Jury. It took just seventy men at Upper Sandusky, from which to secure a jury of twelve who had neither read about or expressed an opinion concerning the Johnson murder. They will try Willis Miller, the fifth and last of the gang. The jury was secured late Tuesday afternoon, and at 8 o'clock yesterday morning the jury was driven to the Johnson home to view the scene of the murder.

Willis Miller, the accused, is taken to the court room in handcuffs, and an extra bailiff has been appointed to watch his every move. Miller has the reputation of being one of the most expert safe-crackers in the country.
